14.22 The Secretary of the Senate is responsible for the production and dissemination of the minutes of all Senate meetings.

      of the points being made and are to be conjoined to the report by the Secretary of the Senate.
   b. In the cases in which such materials may not be available at the time of the Senate meeting, a guest may request a unanimous consent to revise and extend his/her comments so that such materials be submitted and included in the minutes.
   c. In the cases in which the materials are requested by a Senator for inclusions, these materials should be supplied to the Secretary of the Senate within twenty-four hours of the adjournment of that Senate meeting.

5. While in session, a Senator may request a unanimous consent to revise and by Senate unless there is an objection by another Senator(s).

   b. A written copy of the revised and extended minutes must be submitted to the Secretary of the Senate within twenty-four hours of the adjournment of that Senate meeting.
   c. The Secretary will then include in the minutes both
      i. the Secretary’s original notes, and
      ii. the submitted revised and extended comments.
   d. It is the prerogative of the Senate Executive Council to review the revised and extended comments to ensure that the purpose and content of the comments are in alignment with the recorded notes of the Secretary of the Senate.
   e. The Senate Executive Council, by majority vote, can accept or reject items in a revise and extend document. If rejected, the Senate Executive Council will provide in writing its rationale to the author.
   f. If no request to revise and extend is made by a Senator in a meeting of a Faculty Senate, no additions to the minutes can be made by any person and the minutes as recorded by the Secretary of the Senate shall stand.
   g. In the case of a move to revise and extend comments in the minutes, the Secretary shall forward the minutes with the revise and extend to the Executive Council within five academic days of the Senate meeting.
6. The published minutes must be sent in writing to the Chief Academic Officer within five academic days after the dissemination of the minutes and no later than five academic days prior to the next meeting of the Senate.

7. Because minutes are distributed, the reading of such minutes can be dispensed with except when a correction is to be made. A majority vote of the Senators present is required for the approval of the minutes of the previous meeting and corrections. The minutes shall reflect Senators present, Senators absent, and Alternates present.

14.23 Any violations of the protocols concerning the production, dissemination, and modification of the minutes by the President of the Senate or any other officer, or Senator may incur warning, censure/reprimand, or removal from office (recall).

If seconded and approved, the bundle of proposals are considered on the floor for discussion; if the bundling is not approved, the original proposal shall be considered on the floor for discussion by itself.

3. The president will determine when discussion is complete by requesting ‘Is there additional discussion?’ If none, the president will call for a motion concerning the disposition of the proposal.

4. The process then follows the protocols established in By-Laws 14.25.

14.27 Voting in the Faculty Senate meetings shall be by voice except

1. as otherwise specified in these By-Laws;

2. when the President or any Senator present requests a show of hands;

3. when three or more Senators present request a vote by ballot; or

4. when at least one-fifth of those Senators present approve a roll-call vote except when a vote by ballot has been decided.

14.28 When in session, any Senator may call for a Point of Order, requesting clarification of the process.
1. A Point of Order takes precedence over all other business, suspending all business until the Point of Order is resolved.

2. The President shall acknowledge the Point of Order and immediately direct it to the Parliamentarian, who is charged to adjudicate the Point of Order; if the adjudication resolves the matter for the Senator who called the Point of Order, business as usual commences.

3. If the decision by the Parliamentarian does not resolve the issue, a motion from any Senator to override the decision by the Parliamentarian can be made. After being seconded and after appropriate discussion by the Senate as a whole, a vote will be taken. The override of the Parliamentarian’s decision is successful with the affirmation of simple majority of the Senators present.

4. Any violations of the protocols concerning Points of Order by the President of the Senate or any other officer, or Senator may incur warning, censure/reprimand, or removal from office (recall).

5. Adjournment is a privileged motion allowing no debate. However, if the agenda has not been fully dealt with, the President of the Senate must rule this motion out of order, unless a date and time for a Special Meeting has been set.
