Room Responsibilities

Being an on-campus resident is a great place to experience college life at its best, but it does come with some responsibilities. All of the furniture in your room must remain in the room during the entire year. Removal of room items, such as this mattress, is considered theft of University property.

Beds must be bunked or lofted properly - be sure to read the Residential Life Handbook, located on the Residential Life website, for guidelines. Your loft may be checked by your RA for safety. Remember, you are not living alone. You have a roommate, as well as many other neighbors living on your floor. You may have guests visit during designated visitation hours and you are responsible for your guests and their actions at all times.

Residential Life does its best to keep our facilities in the best possible condition. If you come across any concerns regarding maintenance issues please report them to the front desk immediately.

Making the residence halls a home is everyone's responsibility and Residential Life thanks you for being part of your community's success.
