“When high school students, who engaged in service-learning, were compared with peers who either performed community service or performed no service at all the service-learning group scored higher on all academic measures.” (Furco, 2002)

Make 2007 a year about giving back. i-SAFE's Service Learning Program is the answer.

i-SAFE provides everything necessary to ensure that you are not just completing community service but benefiting and learning from the experience in true service-learning style. All of the projects benefit the community and aid in learning more about Internet Safety while spreading the word to others.

Students have a range of projects from which to choose, such as hosting student assemblies, conducting community leaders meetings, creating public service announcements or hosting parent information nights. i-SAFE provides materials, step-by-step directions for meeting with community members, getting permission for projects, completing projects, and receiving service credit.

To learn more about i-SAFE's service learning projects please visit:
http://www.isafe.org/servicelearning or
(760) 603-7911 ext 21

To unsubscribe from our mailing list, go to https://auth.isafe.org/unsubscribe/index.php and enter the email address this email was sent to.