As the Missouri Leadership Development System grows to serve school leaders with three or more years of experience, get a sneak peek at some of the content. Each of the three half-day sessions will highlight various aspects of the MLDS content. Sessions are not in sequence. Select session based on learning opportunity desired.

Session 1: February 28 or March 13 9:00-12:00 pm	Managing Organizational Energy for Change The energy for change tends to be plentiful in the early stages, but often fades before the objectives are reached. Savvy leaders recognize this and are able to move their organizations to sustained improvement and success. Elements of Teaching Quality As school administrators work to elevate the capacity of their staff members, understanding what comprises effective teachers and teaching becomes essential if schools are to move toward better student outcomes.
Session 2: March 27 or March 29 9:00-12:00 pm	Understanding Change Curves and Implementation Dips Leaders who understand change curves know how to move their organizations past the fear of change and the lack of technical know-how or skills that can hinder efforts to improve. Foundations of Interpersonal Communication While public speaking and presentation skills are important, one-on-one communication remains the workhorse of information flow in any organization. Leaders who excel at this crucial skill can benefit the students and adults they serve.
Session 3: April 24 or April 26 9:00-12:00 pm	The Anatomy of a Habit This session presents a model for understanding how to successfully build and maintain habits to produce positive, sustainable improvement. Organized Abandonment Educational practice often adds new expectations, new tasks and new priorities without first determining what will be eliminated to free the resources to support them. Effective school leaders proactively determine how to make available the resources necessary for future growth and improvement.
