The 2006-2007 Northwest Missouri State women's basketball team entered the NCAA Division II Tournament for just the fourth time in school history after a fourth place finish in the MIAA, and beating Missouri Southern 68-58 in the first round of the MIAA Tournament. The Bearcats garnered a No. 7 seed, but dropped its first round game in the NCAA Division II South Central Regional 87-72 to No. 2 (10th nationally) West Texas A&M. Northwest finished 18-12, the second most wins ever for eighth year head coach Gene Steinmeyer, and 10-8 in the tough MIAA conference.

The Bearcats kicked off their season winning eight of their first nine, the best start in nearly a decade, including winning their first six home games. Northwest's first loss came against Western Washington in the Lynda Goodrich Classic. An overtime thriller, Northwest surrendered a 19-point second-half lead before sophomore guard Jessica Burton hit a three-pointer with three seconds left to tie the game at the end of regulation. Kelli Nelson highlighted a 93-83 overtime conference opening win versus Southwest Baptist on Dec. 9 with 30 points. The Bearcats finished 2006 with a 9-2 record dropping a road game to nationally ranked South Dakota and beating Fort Hays State, a new conference foe, on its own court.

Northwest had a 3-6 start to the new year with tough three-point losses to Missouri Western and Pittsburg State. During January, Northwest was swept by nationally ranked Emporia State and dropped two more games to ranked opponents. The Bearcats beat Missouri Southern, Truman State and Southwest Baptist during the month.

A three-game winning streak in early February began with a win over Central Missouri that saw the five starters score 73 of the teams 81 points. The Bearcats ended the month 5-2, helping them finish the regular season 17-10. Northwest ended the season sweeping Southwest Baptist, Truman State, Fort Hays State and Missouri Southern, but were swept by Missouri Western, Washburn and Emporia State. The Cat's split with Pittsburg State and Central Missouri. Northwest finished the year 0-10 versus ranked opponents with a 14.5 average margin of defeat.

Senior guard Katie O'Grady came on strong at the end of the season averaging 15.5 points the last four games of the season. Sophomore guard Meghan Brue led Northwest with 12.7 points per game and had five 20 plus point performances with a career-high 31 versus Missouri Western on Jan. 3, 2007.
