b. Inspiration: Ashton Raffety
   i. What defines a person: In my short time in leadership positions at northwest I’ve found that what defines a person isn't their title or position of authority. What defines a person is what they stand for and what they do about it. Anyone can write down on a resume that they've held this position and that position, but what matter is what you've done, not what you've been. So I am presenting a challenge to be fulfilled for the rest of this senate and the rest if our lives at that matter. Don't just be something, do something.

c. Inspiration for next week: Jeremy Butler

d. Senator Kunkel moved to adjourn, Senator Clark seconded it.
