WELLNESS SERVICES

Statement on Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion

University Wellness Services strives to be inclusive of all students and serve as a safe space for marginalized students. University

Wellness Services shall operate in a manner that does not unlawfully discriminate against people on the basis of race, ethnicity, national origin, religion, sex (including pregnancy), gender identity and expression, age, sexual orientation, marital status, disability, veteran status, or any other basis prohibited by federal, state, or local law, or University policy.

University Wellness Services prohibits retaliation against any person because they opposed or complained about discrimination in good faith, assisted in good faith in the investigation of a discrimination complaint, or participated in a discrimination charge or other proceeding under federal, state, and local antidiscrimination law or University policy.

If someone feels they have been discriminated against, contact:
