The Northwest Difference

The Vocal Music Education major certifies students to teach in K-12 music classrooms. The degree includes instruction in choral music, elementary general music, curriculum development, classroom management, and working with students of special needs and diverse populations, along with applied voice and choral ensemble experiences.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

Northwest boasts a high placement rate for Music Education majors seeking employment and those who continue their education within six months of graduation.

PROFESSION-BASED LEARNING EXPERIENCES

Education majors get experience in the classroom starting in their freshman year. The Northwest education programs are dedicated to ensuring students are career-ready and prepared for the first day of school.

Profession-based teaching observation provides students an opportunity to observe a teacher for 30 hours during their first two years. Students interact with professionals in the field and learn the operations of a classroom and good teaching practices.

During the sophomore year, students participate in a field experience that involves outlining a unit plan and teaching lessons in grades five through nine.

During the junior-year practicum experience, students spend 90 hours in the classroom teaching lessons, integrating technology and literacy, engaging learning strategies, and using assessment to guide instruction.

During the senior-year student teaching experience, students prepare lessons and teach in both the elementary and secondary music classroom for a total of 16 weeks.

CHORAL ENSEMBLES

Students have the opportunity to participate in numerous ensembles across their time at Northwest, including University Chorale, Tower Choir, Madraliers, Celebration Show Choir, Musical Theater, and various chamber groups, along with instrumental ensembles if they wish.

Music Education Extended Certification

The Music Education extended certification can be added onto the Vocal Music Education major. This is not a major or minor, but an extended certification that meets Missouri teacher certification requirements in both instrumental and vocal music, K–12. These graduates are equipped to teach in both the instrumental and vocal music classrooms, elementary and secondary levels.
