SUSAN WHITE OCTOBER 14 - DECEMBER 7, 2013 / ARTIST LECTURE OCTOBER 14, 7:00 PM

Susan White works primarily with pyrographs / burn drawings and thorn works, three dimensional structures made from the thorns of the honey locust tree.

In her recent pyrographs, a series of portrait silhouettes, White is interested in the interior architecture that we each rely on, suggesting camouflage, mapping, interior states of being. The myriad marks that comprise the works may be thought of as breaths or silent mantras. The constancy of the marks creates an energy that forms a kind of meditative hum, expressive of the unique aspect of each individual.

While the pyrographs relate to an interior, personal meditative state, in contrast, the thornworks have evolved in response to the external environment, suggestive of the sometimes challenging nature of public life and public convention.

Susan White received a BFA from the Kansas City Art Institute and pursued graduate studies at Rhode Island School of Design. In 2010, White had a residency at Youkobo Art Space in Tokyo. Her work has been supported by grants from the Lighton International Artist Exchange Program, the Salina Art Center, The Avenue of the Arts Foundation, and the Creative Capital Foundation Professional Development program. Her work is found in the collections of the Nerman Museum, Sprint Nextel, Hallmark Cards, among others and in the Viewing Program of the Drawing Center in New York.

JASON RAMEY JANUARY 27 - MARCH 7, 2014 / ARTIST LECTURE JANUARY 27, 7:00 PM

"Sense of place is an underlying theme in my work. The relationship of the furniture with the wall calls in to question the actual role and meaning of both elements. I am interested in the viewer finding the humanity in the work thru familiarity with the chosen parts. The work is more about what might have been than what actually is. I use familiar furniture forms and pair them with the usually static wall form. I believe in truth to materials. By using the real materials to make the piece, I feel I am being true to my history and myself. The materials are often cumbersome, but the inevitable physicality that comes along with cumbersome materials adds to my experience and appreciation of the process". Jason Ramey
