

Pay less at an independent or free-standing provider

At one time, an order for labs meant having them done at the hospital campus or a facility your healthcare provider selected. However, hospital systems generally charge substantially more for these services.

Today, you have control to choose the in-network facility that has the lowest out-of-pocket expense. That may mean an outside lab provider or free-standing lab.

In St. Joseph, Missouri, and the surrounding area, you have these in-network options for lower-cost lab work. Simply ask your healthcare provider to order your labs at one of these in-network facilities.
