Explore the Englishes of Missouri in ENG 504 (CRN 24088 and 24228). Learn about the scientific study of language. Examine the ways that language is changing in Missouri, and the ways that language differs in rural and urban areas, between males and females, among ethnic groups, and across ages. Conduct real-world fieldwork to document, measure, and describe developments in English in Missouri. This course can be taken for graduate or undergraduate credit.
