Bad Ideas about Writing

In English 501: Language, Writing, and Pedagogy we will explore the many bad ideas about writing that are widespread throughout both the university and the wider culture. We will discuss what writing researchers and scholars have to say about those bad ideas and discuss how we might combat these ideas. You will also conduct your own research project on one of these ideas in order to find out why people think that and how we might work towards improving people's ideas about writing.
