

ACCELERATED PROGRAM

Students can earn an undergraduate and a graduate degree in five years by taking graduate courses during their junior and senior years.

"I have taken a variety of classes that pushed me to think critically and explore new perspectives. I am incredibly thankful that I chose to pursue my dreams at Northwest because the English program made me the person I am today."

— McKenzy Gauert

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCES

Our events allow students to see guest authors with recent awards and publications. Students in advanced courses may present at major literary conferences.

SCHOOL OF LANGUAGE, LITERATURE AND WRITING ENGLISH MAJOR

EXAMPLE COURSES

- Young Adult Lit
- Literature and Film
- Science Fiction Lit
- Women's Literature
- 20th Century Poetry: Wit & Weirdness
- Ghosts in U.S. Lit
- Cultural Studies in Literature (Taylor's version)

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

- College professor
- Librarian
- Content creator
- Lawyer
- Nonprofit manager
- Publisher

Our school brings together readers and creative writers with a wide range of literary experiences and career interests to help them become more thoughtful thinkers and communicators. Our courses enhance students' knowledge and analytical skills in the genres and styles they are familiar with, but we also introduce new authors, periods and critical methods.

Many of our literary, creative writing, and linguistics courses vary from year to year so students can enjoy new themes and genres and choose based on what is most relevant for their future.

UNDERGRADUATE MAJORS

- English (Bachelor of Arts)
- English: Creative Writing Emphasis (Bachelor of Arts)

UNDERGRADUATE MINORS

- English
- Writing
- Spanish

ACCELERATED PROGRAM

- English Accelerated Program (Bachelor to Master of Arts)

CONTACT INFORMATION

School of Language, Literature and Writing
Jaime Collins
jaimec@nwmissouri.edu
660.562.1265

DISCIPLINE LEAD

Dr. Jenny Rytting
rytting@nwmissouri.edu

SCHOLARSHIPS

LLW awards twelve scholarships annually, some of which are need-based grants, while others are scholarships for outstanding student achievement. These grants and scholarships are awarded based on the annual FAFSA and NW scholarship applications and range from a few hundred dollars to $1,625.

PAIRS WELL WITH

- History
- Theater
- Spanish
- Journalism
- Public Relations

STUDENT WORK

Each year, several students attend the convention of the international English honor society Sigma Tau Delta to present their paper, participate in workshops, and attend panels. Lauren Cox has recently won the Isabel Sparks President's Award for her critical essay.

